BE AN EARLY BIRD; Get moving! Don't wait! Strike while the iron's hot! With so many quotes about not procrastinating, there must be some truth to the admonition. Starting early gives you the most time to do an effective job and the possibility of have some free time for yourself once your project is completed.

Conclusion: the early bird set a good example for us.

Invest in some free time; get an early start!

It doesn't matter how good you are, it's the decisions you make that really count.

The project came together nicely. They read, took notes, and outlined the presentation. "We can sign up for one of the early presentation slots," Tonya said. "I'll bet we'll have this done by the end of the week."

"That would be cool," Robin agreed. "We wouldn't have any more work to do for this class for the rest of the semester, except to study for the final."
