APRIL FOOLS DAY!

Don't be fooled... April is one of the loveliest months of the year... sunshine and flowers, green grass and showers... and our baby shumard oak went from "winter dead" to verdant in less than a week. April first should be the day we all feel new again.

Life is a prank, some say... but the joke's on them when we live every day to the fullest.

Don't be fooled! EVERY day brings new promises, new hopes new adventures

Author Insight

Perception of Time

The length of time that something takes is a matter of perception rather than hours, days, or weeks. The more anxious one is for something to happen, the longer it takes... BUT when you just don't want something to end (like summer vacation), it seems to be over in a flash!!

Book Excerpt

Against the World

"I'm heeeeeeeere! Where is everybody?" Robin called as she pushed into the suite and threw her arms wide open.

Katie and Leslie tumbled out of their room and the three friends hugged.

"How can it be that the summer flew by, but it feels like a century since I've seen you?"
