CONGRATULATIONS

Joy Don Baker and Terri Goodman have been accepted as two of seven to be inducted into the inaugural class of Fellows of the Association of periOperative Registered Nurses (FAORN). They will be welcomed as new Fellows by David Wyatt, AORN President, at the induction ceremony at the 2021 AORN Surgical Conference and Expo.

This is an acknowledgement of their outstanding contributions to and effect upon perioperative nursing. Recipients of the AORN's prestigious fellowship recognition showed a commitment to AORN's vision and values through their long-standing contributions to the Association, including active participation in committees, task forces, chapters, and other work. They have served at the local, state, regional and national levels in one or more of the following categories: Clinical, leadership, education, or research and evidence-based practice.

Joining Joy Don and Terri in the inaugural class of Fellows are Carol Applegeet, Charlotte Guglielmi, Patricia Seifert, Victoria Steelman, and Doreen Wagner.

DAY at the FAIR - Who doesn't love the enchantment of a county fair with sights, sounds, and smells to engage the senses, rides to thrill, games of skill, crafts to engage, and the crowds who enjoy every moment.

Close your eyes and remember the fair as if you were a child again.

The things we do, the places we go, the people we meet, are all opportunities to leave people happier than they were before we arrived.

The Wake-Up Call

John swept his gaze around the table. "So, girls, how about the Fair?"

Robin, Leslie, and Frannie all spoke at once, then stopped and giggled. "I'm in," said Robin.

"Me, too," chorused Leslie and Frannie
John said, "Katie, I hope that artist from Sulphur is there. Remember how impressive his beadwork was? And those magnificent paintings by the artist from Hugo. His subjects were so real they could have walked right off the canvas."

"I remember," Katie replied. "There were other artists I would love to see again, too. It makes me proud to see the beautiful things that our people produce. I'm glad that we'll get to share a bit of our culture."

"Oh, and there's something else I'm
