ST. PATRICK'S DAY

This holiday, devoted to celebrating the patron saint of Ireland and Irish culture, gives us the opportunity to recognize one of the oldest cultures that comprises the fabric of the United States. Remember, wearing green will make you invisible to leprechauns!!

US citizens represent countries around the world, and we celebrate our diversity with holidays honoring those cultures' special days.

Each of us represents that four leaf clover to those who are special to us.

Cultural Sensitivity

St Patrick's Day celebrates Irish culture. Legend has it that wearing green makes one invisible to leprechauns. A multitude of cultures intertwine to create the fabric of the United States. Enjoy celebrating the uniqueness of each one.

Book Excerpt

Silent Struggle

My guy is around Dad's age and he's Native American, like me. He's having a Whipple. According to our textbook, it's associated with a high mortality rate. I guess that's because it's a last-ditch effort for a patient with advanced pancreatic cancer. I wonder if the hospital would let me do a Sacred Smoke Bowl Blessing with him. We call it smudging.
