HOLIDAYS BRING OUT THE BEST IN US: Holidays are happy times and the holiday season starts even before Halloween. For weeks and weeks we're surrounded with festive images and an air of anticipation. We're filled with memories of joyous holidays past and we reach out to the folks in our lives whom we've not touched for a while. And... we end the season with great expectations for the new year to come.

Let's start with witches and goblins and ghosts... and candy... and celebrate that we can be creative this year.

The families who celebrate together have the most fun!

Holidays bring out the best in us

Celebrations can be richer and more rewarding when shared with others. Holidays remind humans of their humanity.

Book Excerpt

The Wake-Up Call

“Our holiday will be a lot like yours, Katie,” Leslie added. “It’s one of my favorites, too, because it’s always a happy time with loads of guests. Mama invites anyone who doesn’t have a place to celebrate. One year she invited a whole family who’d just moved to town. Mama figured they wouldn’t be settled in time for Thanksgiving, so there were seven of us Bleus, that family with four kids, my three cousins who were visiting, and two more people who showed up at the last minute. That year we had 18 for Thanksgiving dinner.”
